1 Course Description

This course brings a fresh perspective to today’s major questions surrounding financial policy. Money and Banking Course offers students a unique viewpoint and informed insight into the monetary policy process, the regulation and supervision of the financial system, and the internationalization of financial markets. Most important, the intertwining of previously separate capital markets and money markets has produced a system with new dynamics as well as new vulnerabilities. That’s the reason this course also studies dealers, in both capital markets and money markets, as suppliers of market liquidity to the new system of market-based credit. The course also studies central banks’ new role as dealers of last resort aftermath of the financial crisis. The result was nearly a decade of innovation by central banking authorities in an effort to stem the collapse.

*This book is optional.

4 Grade Distribution

The composition of the final grade will be roughly as follows:

- Midterm 1 Exam 15%
- Midterm 2 Exam 15%
- Biweekly Quizzes Exam 10%
- Synthesis Project: Book Review 40%
- Final 20%

5 Synthesis Project: New Lombard Street Book Review

- This project is a 2000-word paper that uses the concepts of the class to write a critical assessment of the “The New Lombard Street: How the Fed Became the Dealer of Last Resort” by Perry Mehrling.
- The deadline is Friday, December 11th, by 11:59 pm.
- This is a hard deadline and cannot be extended.

5.1 Essay’s format

- The main body of the essay should not exceed 2,000 words.
- This is around 4 pages single spaced or 8 pages double spaced.
- Your essay should have a reference page.

  It also should provide a cover page that clearly mentions this information:

- Full name of the student and her/his email.
• The Title for your essay.

5.2 Guideline

Here is a short guideline on how to write this essay. To get the full grade, please make sure you read the guideline carefully:

• This book project is a critical evaluation of Mehrling’s book and should have an argument.
• The most important feature of this review project is that it is a commentary, not a summary.
• You should enter a dialogue with the book’s author and other audiences, including but not limited to, me and my TAs.
• The maximum grade you will get for submitting even a very good summary of Mehrling’s is 40/100.

Instead, your essay should share these common features:

First, a review gives the reader a concise summary of the content. This includes a relevant description of the topic as well as its overall perspective, argument, or purpose.

Second, and more importantly, a review offers a critical assessment of the content. This involves your reactions to the work under review: what are the main thesis of the book, which difference strikes you as noteworthy, whether or not it was effective or persuasive, and how it enhanced your understanding of the issues at hand.

Third, your essay should compare Mehrling’s main thesis with the standard theories. Your essay should describe what are the differences and similarities between Mehrling’s ideas and standard theories as we learn from Mishkin’s, and Finally, in addition to analyzing the work, a review often suggests whether or not the audience would appreciate it.

5.3 Submission

• The essay should be submitted electronically.
• The deadline is Friday, Dec 11th, by 11:59 pm EST. No extensions will be granted.

6 Extra Office Hours for Writing Project

From week 7 onwards, there will be an additional office hour to guide you through your writing project.

7 TA Sessions

- This course has three teaching assistants. Students must sign up for one TA session. Attendance is mandatory. Please see the table above.

8 Lectures

- We start every class by discussing a relevant news article, typically from FT, WSJ or The Economist. These articles will be posted in the course website a few days prior to Tuesday.
- The material is difficult and cumulative. To be successful in the class it is very important for you to read the relevant material before class.

8.1 Other Materials

Students should be regularly checking the developments in capital and money market. Some of the excellent resources are as below:
- FRB Balance Sheet: https://www.federalreserve.gov/monetarypolicy/bst_recenttrends.htm
- Derivatives Statistics: BIS: https://www.bis.org/statistics/extderiv.htm?m=6%7C32%7C616
- Capital Market and Securitization data: SIFMA: https://states.sifma.org/#states
Please note that this list is not exhaustive. Students are required to be well-informed about other resources.

9 Academic Dishonesty

– Students have an obligation to integrity in all academic work. Submission of test answers to be counted towards the course grade automatically imply a personal pledge that the student has neither given nor received unapproved information about the test, whether by copying answers, exchanging unauthorized prior information, etc. The college may initiate disciplinary proceedings against a student accused of scholastic dishonesty.

– Scholastic dishonesty may involve one or more of the following acts: cheating, plagiarism, and/or falsifying academic records.

– Cheating is the willful giving or receiving of information in an unauthorized manner during an examination, illicitly obtaining examination questions in advance, using someone else’s work for assignments as if it were one’s own, or any other dishonest means of attempting to fulfill the requirements of the course.

– Any cases of cheating will be reported to the Office of the Dean of Students.

– For more details please refer to the Office of the Dean of Students.

10 Provisions for Possible Syllabus Revisions

There may be changes in the assignments and topics. Students are responsible for learning of any changes in the syllabus that are announced during class.
